Re: Polyethylene Force Majeure Notice from vendor

Dear Valued customer:

Issues arising from Hurricane Harvey have forced our resin supplier to declare a force majeure event. We are taking this opportunity to inform you, our customer, of this event, and that this may significantly limit Zacros's supply chain in the fourth quarter. Zacros is in daily communications with our supplier and will be obtaining week-to-week confirmations of our supply.

Please be assured that Zacros America Inc. is working diligently to minimize the impact of this event on your business. We will provide you with any updates as more information becomes available. You will be contacted by a Zacros America Inc. representative with any additional information that would negatively affect our supply chain.

We apologize in advance for any inconvenience to your business.

Sincerely,
